MEINL PERCUSSION INTRODUCES A DAF FRAMEDRUM EQUIPPED WITH A SYNTHETIC HEAD

Meinl percussion is introducing the new 20" x 2 1/2" Daf, which is a classical Persian frame drum with a rich tradition. It has ring snares nearly all the way around the inside of the shell and is played with a lot of movement. This Daf style has a modern element to it, as the rings are placed in three different groups around the drum in order to save weight and to enable the player to develop new techniques.

The new Meinl Daf comes with original sounding and durable True Feel synthetic heads.
